REVOLTING CRIME IS UNEARTHED BY POLICE— TWO ARRESTS MADE

MEN NOW IN CITY POLICE CELLS AWAITING SERIOUS CHARGE—INNOCENT GIRL STOLEN FROM FRIENDS
BROUGHT TO LIVE LIFE OF SHAME IN EDMONTON

Two young men well known in Edmonton are now lying behind the bars of the city police cells, awaiting trial on charges of a most serious crime, while the police and crown prosecutor are probing the details of the worst case of white slave trafficking that has ever come to the attention of the provincial police.

A few weeks ago a pretty young Scandinavian girl left her father's home near Inuitfall to visit friends in Calgary. It was the first time she had been away from home. Her father is a hard working farmer near Inuitfall, who has been in the country some weeks.

Today this girl lies dangerously ill in an Edmonton hospital, suffering from a horrible disease, while the young men who are charged with ruining her are awaiting trial on charges that if proven, will send them to penitentiary for a stiff term of years.

Another girl is also involved with the girl from Inuitfall, in the case. The story told by the two girls, of the plot of which the Inuitfall girl was the victim, and of the life they have led under the lash of the two young men, is pitiful in the extreme.

In the very heart of Edmonton, of a matter of several weeks, the girls have been kept in a rooming house by the two men, who treated them cruelly, scarcely gave them sufficient to eat, while they took, sometimes by force, all of the earnings of the two women.

According to the story told by the Inuitfall girl, she went to Calgary some weeks ago to visit friends. On the train she met a young girl casually introduced her in Calgary on the street.

The young girl casually introduced her to two young men, who took them both to a restaurant. The girl claims that she was dragged by one of the men, and that when she came to the two men were together in a room.

She was then brought to Edmonton on the pretence that she was to marry the man, but instead she was placed with the other girl in a rooming house in the heart of the city. There, according to the girls, they lived a life of the most revolting nature, the details of which would shock the ears of the most hardened of the city.

In the meantime, the father of the girl at Inuitfall began to make inquiries regarding her disappearance. He was only when the police unearthed the case in Edmonton, and when the girls told their story, that the father got word of his daughter's fate. Their reunion was pitiful. When he saw the girl's condition, and heard her story he threatened to kill the two men who had ruined her, and said dramatically that he would take his chance of being hung for murder.

INTRODUCING NEW INVENTION HERE

Demonstrator of Smokeless Combustion Machinery Will Lecture on Subject Important to City.

Introducing new inventions that will make possible smokeless combustion of bituminous coals, Geo. L. B. Van Tassel, demonstrating agent of the Westinghouse Machine Co., of New York, Chicago, and other points, is in the city, at present, a guest at the Albergo.

Mr. Van Tassel is devoting much of his time at present, to the explanation and demonstration of machinery for smokeless combustion, a new system that is not very extensively used at present, but is beginning to be adopted by some of the large firms in industrial enterprise.

Smokeless combustion of coal will become a very important factor in industrial development in Edmonton in future years, in view of the fact that much of the coal that is being developed west of the city on the Grand Trunk Pacific is of a bituminous nature, and will be used largely in industrial enterprise.

In view of this, Mr. Van Tassel is to deliver a lecture on the subject of smokeless combustion of bituminous coal, in the board of trade rooms, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. The lecture is being held under the auspices of the Edmonton Engineering Society, and the general public is invited to attend. The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides.

UNITED STATES TROOPS ARE BEING MOBILIZED ON MEXICAN FRONTIER

SECRETARY BALLINGER RESIGNS

Washington, March 7.—Richard A. Ballinger's resignation as secretary of the interior, hearing date of January 19th last, was accepted by President Taft today and Walter L. Fisher of Chicago was appointed to the vacancy created. His commission was signed by the President this morning and he will take office tomorrow morning. Mr. Ballinger will remain in the office for several days instructing his successor as to the nature of the work.

It is rumored that Secretary Ballinger's resignation has been in the hands of the President ever since January last, when the President's controversy was at its height and that the President had tabled the resignation until he made a personal investigation into the charges brought by Pinckney against the secretary.

Immediately after it was made known that Secretary Ballinger's resignation had been made permanent a number of Representatives and Senators called on the President, it is said, to register a protest against the appointment, he being a protégé of Pinckney. Just what the result of these interviews was cannot be learned but it is stated that the President expressed to those protesting that he would brook no interference in the filling of vacancies in his cabinet.

CONSTRUCTION OF HIGH LEVEL BRIDGE DELAYED BY ANOTHER CAVE-IN

COFFER DAM BREAKS IN, NECESSITATING ADDITIONAL WORK—LABORERS DEMAND INCREASED WAGES
FOR WORKING OVERTIME—RETURN TO WORK

The culmination of a series of difficulties which the gauge on the G.P.R. high level bridge have experienced this winter with the installation of cement work below the level of the river, came on Sunday night, of this week, when a big coffer dam in which concrete had been poured, and which broke in, destroying the work that had been done, and making it necessary to start over again on most of the concrete.

Games were busy yesterday with this morning's pumping out the broken coffer, and repairing the frame work ready to start concrete again. Difficulties such as this have been experienced so often during the winter that the work below the level of the river has been found hazardous because of the tendency of the dams to break.

Working double shifts every day, of 12 hours each, seven days in the week, the bridge gangers are now pouring concrete on the pier that is to support the huge structure.

The only dissatisfaction over wages on the bridge exists among the laborers, who believe they should get 25 cents an hour.

MAY DEMAND RELEASE OF AMERICANS

Washington, March 7.—Senor Caballero, an attaché of the Mexican embassy in this city, and Secretary of State Knox held a long conference this morning, but no statements regarding the outcome of the conference were forthcoming. Immediately after the Mexican representative had left his office Secretary Knox called in the secretary of the navy and the secretary of war.

It is rumored that strong pressure is being brought to bear upon the government to demand the release of Americans imprisoned in Mexico and also compensation for the destruction of property owned by citizens of the United States.

El Paso, Texas, March 7.—That the United States will take a hand in the conflict which has been raging between revolutionists and the Mexican government unless a number of Americans are released from Mexican prisons was the report which was received here today.

ARE TRYING AGAIN TO FREE THAW

Big Funds Ready to Investigate Reports About Manhattan Asylum

Matthew, N.Y., Mar. 7.—Word comes from the hospital for the Criminal Insane that all privileges are now withheld from Harry K. Thaw by Drs. Lamb and Baker, the superintendent and chief physician respectively. He is not permitted to see his mother, his counsel, Clarence Shearn, or any other person beyond the hearing of an attendant, and every letter, note or other communication he desires to send outside is censored.

The announced reason is that, as Thaw's last appeal had been dismissed by the Court of Appeals, there is no reason why he should have confidential conversation or communication with any person. The real reason, only hinted at, is that the hospital authorities have a strong suspicion that the money employed to back the whole crusade against the present administration of the institution is coming from Thaw or his family.

Immense Sums Being Spent.
Without positive evidence, the authorities know that some persons are spending immense sums in freeing inmates, in investigating alleged abuses, in collecting evidence generally. At least half a dozen lawyers in New York, Albany, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Fishkill Landing are actively engaged in addition to private detectives and other investigators.

Seven Have Gone Free.
With the release of Mary Mullen by the Supreme Court the seventh person, an inmate of the hospital was freed by the court since December 1. Each person so released was declared sane and lawfully held, and each person was provided with a good lawyer. None of these persons or his family, so far as known was in a position to bear the legal expense. The hospital authorities had they were not being paid by Thaw, admitted they had received good returns.

Thaw Sees Fresh Hope.
Everything has tended to indicate an organized effort to bring about a rigid investigation of the hospital where the State confines its criminal insane. That could only mean in case abuse of any kind or any objectionable administration were found—a new administration. With it would come a new superintendent of the hospital and a new assistant in place of Dr. Amos T. Baker, whose word has kept Thaw where he is to-day.

Heads Now Superintendent.
As suspected at the hospital, the scheme of Thaw is very plain. He stands to-day acquitted of the murder of Stanford White on the ground that he was insane at the time of the tragedy. The State law sets forth that when, in the opinion of the superintendent, an inmate becomes sane, that fact must be reported to the Justice of the Supreme Court of the district. If Thaw were declared to be sane, and sent back to New York city through the good offices of a friendly superintendent, he would remain in the Tombs until a writ of habeas corpus would reveal that there was no other charge against him.

MISS TEXAS GUINAN
Commedienne with the Kissing Girl Opera Company, at the Empire Theatre three nights, March 9, 10 and 11.

THE "KISSING GIRL" AT THE EMPIRE THEATRE

"The Kissing Girl," as impersonated by Texas Guinan, which will be the attraction at the Empire on Thursday Friday and Saturday of this week, trips through the hit of her "Little Band of Gold" song. The enchanting musical play delights capacity crowds nightly. "Good Old German Beer," disintegrated into a real anthem in glorification of the malt and hops over which damprins reigns, by the sonority of Harry Hershman's capacious voice, and "On the Boulevard," with its swing in its measures which typifies all the bay life of the thoroughfare apostrophized in the song, are others of the musical numbers which are prominent in having established the new show a favorite among those in search of relaxation and enjoyment. Pleasing comedy bits are contributed by Thos. Whiffen and Ida Fitzhugh, and a bewildering array of chorus beauties add to a riot of colorful magnificence, emphasized by a surpassingly fetching scenic investigation.

ATHABASCA COUNTRY IS RICH IN OIL AND TAR

EDMONTON COMPANIES PREPARING TO DEVELOP CLAIMS THIS YEAR—ENOUGH NATURAL GAS AT PELICAN RAPIDS TO SUPPLY CITIES

Nearly 200 miles north of Edmonton, in a direct line almost due north, at Pelican Rapids on the Athabasca river, there is a natural gas well that has been spouting natural gas for thirteen years, at a rate that would have supplied in these 13 years enough gas to furnish light to a small sized city.

Thirteen years ago, the Dominion Government sent an engineer to test the natural gas indications at Pelican Rapids. He sunk a well, and struck a tremendous flow. The flow has been going ever since, burning most of the time, at a terrific force. All efforts to cap the well have thus far failed.

Petroleum machinery at Fort McMurray, which has been leased by A. Violette, who will operate on his claims north of McMurray this summer.

No further attention was paid to the well, nor to the fact that for miles around the country showed the same indications of gas as at the Rapids.

Only now is active attention being centred upon the possibilities of the natural gas country at Pelican Rapids. One day last week, a party of forty men, sent out secretly by a local syndicate, returned from a trip to Pelican Rapids, and at the Dominion land office, filed upon 40 claims the Rapids, of 1240 acres each, paying down each $5 to hold the claims. These claims, the men stated while at Pelican Rapids.

This is the beginning of what is believed will be an era of development in the Athabasca country, that portion of Alberta which is said to be very rich in minerals, an era that will continue until the minerals have been fully prospected, and huge industries have grown up on the banks of the Athabasca.

It is not very hard to get any Edmontonian, or in fact anybody who knows anything about the country north and north east of Edmonton, to predict that there will be some very big mineral development there within the next decade, notwithstanding that the construction of railways has been delayed.

That natural gas exists in large quantities near Pelican Rapids has been practically established beyond all doubt. Even the city of Edmonton are now talking of piping the gas from that Pelican Rapids may be said to be the point where the mineral belt starts in the Athabasca country. From there north, along the Athabasca, and beyond Lake Athabasca, far to the northward, there is said to exist the most valuable of minerals.

The stretch from Pelican Rapids north to Fort Mackay, below Fort McMurray, has been prospected fairly

DEPARTS FOR INNISFREE.

Innisfree, March 7.—On Tuesday, night about seventy friends under the auspices of the "Innisfree Citizens Band" congregated in Norris Hall to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Trace, the eve of their departure to Laurel, Mont., where Mr. Trace has taken a partnership in the North-West Investment Co. of that city. The chairman of the evening, Mr. Jas. Hunter after giving a very appropriate address, in which he regretted very much the necessity of losing Mr. Trace from our midst, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Trace on behalf of those present, a beautiful silver tea set and platter suitably engraved, Mr. Trace on behalf of his wife and himself thanked those present for their kindness, and assuring that anything he had done either for the Band or the town, was done cheerfully. Several other speakers then expressed their appreciation of the way in which Mr. Trace had always entered into anything that was in any way to the betterment of the community. Mr. D. J. Dickson, president of the band, dwelt in particular on the way in which Mr. Trace, as present last year took hold and made the organization such a success, taking it when they were away in debt and leaving with a surplus in the treasury.

After a short programme and lunch, the closing came by singing "Auld Lang Syne" and the National Anthem. On the Friday evening previous the members of the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, which Mrs. Trace was a very active member, met at the home of Mrs. Linn, and after spending a very pleasant evening presented Mrs. Trace with a silver cake dish and pickle jar, as a "light token of their appreciation of her labors."

POLO TOURNAMENT AT ALKEN

Alken, S.C., Mar. 7.—Polo enthusiasts and society folk gathered in large numbers for the opening of the tournament of the Alken Polo Club, the first big event of the kind to be held this year. Some of the best known polo players in the country are taking part in the tournament, which will continue over a period of two weeks.

DENTAL DEANS IN CONVENTION
Jowa City, Ia., Mar. 7.—The annual convention of the Dental Faculties' Association of America began to-day at the State University of Iowa and will continue over to-morrow. Prominent among those taking part in the proceedings are Dr. Eugene H. Smith of Harvard University, Dr. Edward C. Kirk of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. James G. Murray of the University of California, Dr. Alfred Over of the University of Minnesota, and Dr. N. S. Hoff of the University of Michigan.

COMMENCE OIL DRILLING.

The Port Mackay Oil and Asphalt Company have leased a large amount of petroleum machinery from Mr. Hutchings' company and will do considerable development work on their oil claims north of McMurray this summer.

Outbreak of Tar Sands on Athabasca river at McMurray. There is said to be enough asphalt in the Athabasca country to pave the streets of every town and city in Alberta.

With oil! The whole with oil, as it first! When Verdi's "Macbeth" was given for the first time in Dublin, the long symphony preceding the sleep-walk scene did not altogether please the galleries. The theatre was darkened—everything looked gloomy and mysterious—the music being to match. The curtain rose, and the nurse and doctor were discovered seated at the door of Lady Macbeth's chamber, a bottle of physic and a candle being on the table that was between them. Valio (who was playing Lady Macbeth) was waited for in the most profound silence—a silence which was broken by a voice from the gallery crying out, "Hurry, now, Mr. Lavey, tell us, is it a boy or a girl?" The inquiry nearly destroyed the effect of the whole scene by the commonality it created.

Fontenelle had a great liking for asparagus, and preferred it dressed with oil. One day a certain lion vivandé came unexpectedly to dinner. The abbe was also very fond of butter. Fontenelle affirmed that for a friend there was no surer of which he did not feel himself capable, and that half the dish of asparagus he had ordered for himself should be done with butter. While they were talking, waiting for dinner, the poor abbe suddenly fell down in a fit of apoplexy. Upon which Fontenelle instantly sprang up, scrambled down to the kitchen with agility, and cried out to his cook, "The whole with oil!"

While they were talking, waiting for dinner, the poor abbe suddenly fell down in a fit of apoplexy. Upon which Fontenelle instantly sprang up, scrambled down to the kitchen with agility, and cried out to his cook, "The whole with oil!"

Fontenelle had a great liking for asparagus, and preferred it dressed with oil. One day a certain lion vivandé came unexpectedly to dinner. The abbe was also very fond of butter. Fontenelle affirmed that for a friend there was no surer of which he did not feel himself capable, and that half the dish of asparagus he had ordered for himself should be done with butter. While they were talking, waiting for dinner, the poor abbe suddenly fell down in a fit of apoplexy. Upon which Fontenelle instantly sprang up, scrambled down to the kitchen with agility, and cried out to his cook, "The whole with oil!"

Great Sale of Glass-ware

We have always the largest stock of glass in Alberta, 20,000 to 30,000 glasses. The States practically have no system of attracting and locating emigrants. There is a cry every year for farm labor, and state governments make an effort to draw the population congested in the cities out to the farms. The federal government admits foreign emigration and lets it go at that. Instead of directing it as is now, the state and national governments were wisely conducted as the government in Canada the congestion of the labor in the cities would not exist, while labor would be amply supplied in the agricultural districts, where it is so much needed.

FLOCKING TO CANADA

Special Trains to Be Run from New Jersey and Pennsylvania

The Newark, N.J., Star says editorially: "Canadian enterprise in drawing upon the United States for population, which has had such extraordinary results in the northwest, is now to be directed to the east. It is stated that special trains are to be run from New Jersey and Pennsylvania, beginning April 1, this year, to the Province of Alberta, to transport people who are to change their residence and citizenship. The Canadian system of emigration is splendidly planned, well executed and thoroughly carried out. It has stripped the Northwestern states of thousands of their farmers who have taken their capital and energies into British territory. This drain of our best class of population is a severe loss to the nation. Canada selects the best that we have, and is getting it. How does this American Emigration system compare with that of Canada? At New York a few undesirables of the worst class are sifted out from the masses that come to us from Europe, but disease, poverty, vice and crime creep into the country nevertheless. The States practically have no system of attracting and locating emigrants. There is a cry every year for farm labor, and state governments make an effort to draw the population congested in the cities out to the farms. The federal government admits foreign emigration and lets it go at that. Instead of directing it as is now, the state and national governments were wisely conducted as the government in Canada the congestion of the labor in the cities would not exist, while labor would be amply supplied in the agricultural districts, where it is so much needed."

SPOKANE TRIES NEW PLAN

Spokane, Wash., Mar. 7.—Spokane is holding its first election to-day under the new charter recently adopted by popular vote. The new charter is modeled rather closely after that recently adopted in Great Britain. The franchise in its main features it follows the general plan of commission government in force in many cities in the West and South. The present mayor and city council will be supplanted by a board of five commissioners. There are nearly 100 candidates for the commissions, among them being the present mayor and a number of the other city officials.

GIVE THE RATEPAYERS
A CHANCE TO VOTE ON MUNICIPAL GAS

The International Heating and Lighting Company is again before the council with their requests for a franchise to install a plant, lay pipes and sell gas in the city of Edmonton.

This time the company seems to be getting a better reception than heretofore. At least two members of the council have come out flatly in favor of making an agreement with the company without further ado.

The mayor and Alderman Mould, on the other hand, have taken the stand that the council should first be in possession of information on which they could decide whether or not it would be feasible for the city to install a plant.

This stand is the only sensible one under the circumstances. The city of Edmonton so far has made a reasonable success of its municipal enterprises. Municipal ownership has been the policy of the city, and unless some good reason is shown why the city should depart from that policy the city should not consider a departure.

The mayor's proposal is the right one. Let the city council first find out how much it would cost to install a gas plant and how much gas would cost with the plant installed and operated by the city, and let the council first submit a bylaw to raise the amount of money necessary.

If his bylaw is defeated by the ratepayers then, and not until then, it is time for the council to go into negotiations for the granting of a franchise.

But should the ratepayers refuse to endorse a bylaw for a municipal plant, the city council would still not be justified in closing with the International people without finding out what other gas companies would be prepared to do. It would be quite in order for the city to advertise the fact that there was a franchise to be given to the company which would make the best offer as to price.

An advertisement to this effect inserted in the leading papers of Eastern Canada, the eastern states and Great Britain would undoubtedly bring plenty of offers to supply Edmonton with gas.

But to close with the International because the company happened to be on the ground, and without offering the ratepayers a vote on municipal ownership or advertising the franchise would be the height of folly, indefensible, precipitate and absurd.

TAFT'S UNPOPULARITY
WITH THE SENATE
HIS BEST ASSET

President Taft undoubtedly sprang a chilling surprise on the United States senate when he ordered a special session to deal with the reciprocity bill.

While Taft's fate hangs largely on the success of this bill, Taft undoubtedly has the senate between two fires. The senate dare not throw out the reciprocity bill for fear of what the country will do. But they can not pass it and serve the interests which they represent.

The senate programme was to let the bill die in committee stage and take a chance that between now and next session public opinion could be moulded to tolerate the rejecting of the treaty.

With this end in view the protectionist forces had already started to work in United States to convince the farmers that the tariff would vitally affect their business and depress the prices of agricultural products. The campaign was in all respects the same in United States as the Manufacturers' Association campaign which is being carried on on this side through the agency of the Montreal Star and the purchasable newspapers of Western Canada.

With plenty of time to work, the publicity departments of the protectionists might have secured results, but Taft put a stop to all that by calling for the extra session and tacitly intimating to the senate and congress that they will not get out of Washington until they deal with the measure.

Undoubtedly the senate will pass the reciprocity bill. They would scarcely dare do anything else in the face of present public opinion.

But the special session will not increase the senate's love for Taft—which fact Mr. Taft may regard as his best asset when seeking the endorsement of the populace.

INTERCOLONIAL
NOT FOR SALE
—G. P. GRAHAM

Every once in a while the story comes out of the east that the Intercolonial is to be sold to MacKenzie & Mann, and as regularly the contradiction comes from Hon. George P. Graham that there is nothing in the story and that the government has no intention of selling the road.

The latest report of a possible transfer arises as the result of a speech made to the Halifax board of trade by William MacKenzie in which he told the business men of Halifax that their city would be more prosperous with the Intercolonial in the hands of the C. N. R. than it is with the road in the hands of the government. Of course MacKenzie and Mann would be more prosperous, but that was not the point which Mr. MacKenzie was arguing.

To hand over the Intercolonial, however, would take more than speeches before any board of trade. Even though the Maritime provinces might be satisfied to allow the government to transfer the road to private owners, there would still be the farmers of the west to satisfy with the arrangement.

It is now pretty generally recognized that one of the greatest mistakes that the railway department at Ottawa ever made was in not buying the Canada Atlantic and extending the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay. Since the Booths have turned the Canada Atlantic over to the C. N. R., the western farmers recognize that the day is that much farther distant when the government road will be a factor in the transportation problem of the west; yet it is safe to say that there is not a grain grower on the prairies but harbors dreams of the day when the government road, extended from the Atlantic to the Pacific, will furnish a regulator which will hold all other roads in check.

To undertake the sale of the Intercolonial at the present time would be an unpopular move, to say the least of it.

SHEFFIELD CHOIR IS COMING IN MAY

Tree events, whose announcement will be received with anticipations of greatest enjoyment by Edmonton music lovers, have been arranged by Geo. H. Snelling, to take place within the next two months, and the spring of 1911 promises to be a veritable festival of the best in musical attainment.

The events will be the visit on April 10 and 11, of the St. Paul Symphony Orchestra, under the personal direction of Mr. Chas. L. Warner, on May 1 of Mischa Elman, "the violinist with the aetherial tone," who will visit Edmonton during the course of his tour across the continent, and on May 9 and 10, of the famous Sheffield choir. Mr. Snelling has just completed arrangements for the visit of this St. Paul Symphony Orchestra, which will give concerts in the McDougall Methodist church. The spring tour of this company of musicians, an orchestra of forty-five members, four of whom are solo singers of continental repute, Elizabeth Rothwell-Wolf being one of the premier sopranos of America, will provide a feast of music never before attempted in the northwest provinces. It will be a revelation to Edmontonians of what music is in its highest ideals. The visit of the orchestra to Edmonton has been brought about by Mr. Snelling's own enterprise and desire to supply musical events of superior quality. Never before has so large a company of distinguished musicians been induced to visit the city, and it is anticipated that the results will be highly educational from a musical standpoint.

The St. Paul Symphony Orchestra, after five years of success in concerts at St. Paul, Minn., will inaugurate its spring tour on March 28, and between that date and June 10 will cover the main part of the United States and Canada. In all there are fifty musicians in the famous choir, selected by conductor Walter Henry Rothwell from all the best musical centres of America and Europe. The orchestra is supported by the citizens of St. Paul, who each year make up a deficit of $25,000, in order to give the public the best in music. The orchestra is touring under the personal direction of Mr. Chas. L. Warner, and the conductor, Mr. Rothwell, is well known in America as the conductor of "Darsaf" and "Manc. Buttery," in English music. Henry Savage, born in London, England, Mr. Rothwell was educated in Vienna, where at the famous conservatory, he first studied the piano, and received high honors for excellence in technique and composition. He conducted at Hamburg, as assistant to Gustav Mahler, then at Trieste, Dresden and Amsterdam, where he was general director of the Royal Opera and had full charge.

Within a month of the visit of the famous symphony orchestra the two other events of outstanding importance to the musical world, will take place.

ORGANIZE HOTEL LEAGUE SATURDAY

ONLY QUESTION TO BE DECIDED WILL BE AS TO WHETHER ORGANIZATION WILL CONSIST OF SIX OR EIGHT CLUBS—ROYAL GEORGE AND KING EDWARD WILL HAVE TEAMS—ALEX. CHABOT PLEASSED WITH HIS NINE AND DECLARES HE WILL MAKE HARD FIGHT FOR THE PENNANT—NAT BELL WANTS THE HONORS FOR THE PENNANTS AND IS WISE AND SAWING WOOD.

The organization of the Hotel Baseball League will take place Saturday afternoon, the meeting being called at 2:30 o'clock in the parlors of the Yale Hotel. Manager Robert McDonald, the over-and-under and tireless promoter, not only consented to have the meeting take place at the Yale but announced that the "Welcome" sign would be out for the afternoon.

The Royal George will have a team this year and will be represented at the meeting Saturday. The King Edward hotel team will be handled by George Deady and he promises to put out a team that will make the fans sit up and take some notice. Nat Bell, the irrepressible booster and general manager of the Pennants, is boasting strong and is busy selling his boys to prepare themselves for the spring training.

Alex. Chabot at the Windsor is the fellow who has been awake every second and piping things in great style. He is a friend for the American national game and has his own baseball outfit. When he sends out his team he will have it fagged out in the most elegant style.

"Just as champions should cut out on the diamond," is the way in which Alex. puts it.

Russell O'Reilly, said to be a world beater and a young man of mysterious twists, will do the pitching for the Windsor bunch and Manager Chabot is confident he will be the mystifying hit. And Chabot should know what he is talking about as he will himself be behind the bat and attend to the receiving. Lloyd Ennis will be at first and Earl Ennis at second. Dennis Farney has been assigned the short-stop position and Jimmie Ennis will play third. As far as the bases are concerned, it is noticeable that all of the stations will be along a case of brotherly love. For the left field position, Manager Chabot states that he has a mysterious individual. Some of the guests declare on the quiet that he is a National League who has been holding out for more money and who wants to play under an alias so that the National Commission will not get after him. Billy Street will play center field. It is in right field that Manager Chabot will have his "ty Cobb" of the Hotel League. None other than Harry Heathcote will be found in that department and there should be no trouble when he comes to bat.

The only question in connection with the organization of the Hotel League Saturday is as to whether the league will have six or eight clubs.

CITY LEAGUE MEETS THURSDAY.

The annual meeting of the City Baseball League will take place Thursday evening at the Y.M.C.A. It is understood that the four clubs composing the league last year—Northwood, Y.M.C.A., Irish Canadians and the Wheelers—will compose the organization.

SPORTING COMMENT

If fight-bugs and associated promoters want to start something real good, why don't some one get John L. Sullivan to challenge Bat Nelson for the typewriter championship. Now that the newspapers have married off Lord and Lady Deedes and found Dorothy Arnold, whoever it is, it should be a little new excitement.

Of course, all the smart men in the country have not been consulted, but a few of us have agreed among ourselves that Jim Corbett has certainly knocked out more men with his bush newspaper articles on prize fighting since he quit the ring than he did with his fists while in it. If you don't believe he has, I dare you to read some of them.

Too bad that Tommy Burns has broken several legs and arms. By these dismemberments he saves himself the painful embarrassment of making someone think that he would really fight Jack Johnson again. Personally I would have to get up very early in the morning to see the end of that fight.

The bunch of loafers down at the ham sandwich track at Jurez should do well with both the insurgents and the Mexican soldiers being paid off in some other money than that made out of real pot metal bolt down.

The thing that gives me more pain than a green apple is the spasmodic yowl of the A. A. U. about the "amateur" gets local some particular athlete. I've been watching these "amateurs" about twelve years now and I have arrived at the conclusion that a professional is nothing more than an amateur who gets the money. Whenever an "amateur" gets local of taking leather medals, sold pot metal cups two feet high that cost $4, a pair of embroidered suspenders and smoking pants that won't smoke, he becomes a professional.

The spectacle of Dan Johnson being given $25,000 for running the American League and now standing in danger of being forced to accept one ninth of the profits of each team in addition, leads one to believe that they think a flock of geese never could lay anything but golden eggs.

When we read that George Gould having a prize fight in his house it becomes evident that his house is getting very early in the morning to keep that burglar from getting its name in the papers. Old Jay started that free advertising years ago by selling mouse traps in Wall Street and since then we have had nothing but the hot struggles of Alan, Howard and Frank. Now George is going to Europe to go into "society." Hope he takes the whole family with him and cuts all the cables in the Atlantic Ocean.

HE IS ENGLAND'S BEST SPORTING MAN

SIR CLAUDE CHAMPION DE CRESPIGNY A SOLDIER, SAILOR, BIG-GAME HUNTER, BOXER AND OARSMAN AND ONE OF BRITAIN'S MOST REMARKABLE SPORTSMEN—GREAT ATHLETE BEGAN LIFE AS A BRITISH NAVY SEAMAN AND HAS MADE GOOD IN EVERY BRANCH HE HAS EVER TAKEN UP—THERE'S NOTHING THAT STUMBLES THIS NOBLE GENTLEMAN.

Sailor, soldier, big game hunter, steeplechase rider, boxer, swimmer, oarsman, balloonist—there is no man who can point to a more wonderful record as an all-around sportsman, or tell of more varied experiences, than Sir Claude Champion de Crespigny, who, in forty years of a Sportsman's Life, has done everything.

It is scarcely an exaggeration to say that Sir Claude has done everything that can be done in the way of sports, and even to-day, at the age of sixty-four, he rides hard to hounds, indulges in physical exercises with the zest of youth, and hopes to follow up the winning of the point-to-point brilliancy of the Hurlingham this year by carrying off some aviation prizes. He has managed to break more bones in his body than he has himself permitted to be broken by any other man. His catalogue of injuries includes two leg bones broken when ballooning, three arm bones smashed when hunting, three ribs which he cracked when steeplechasing, and one which must be put down to a cab accident; one finger which a horse broke for another, and two fingers which he broke on another man.

A Boreford Story.

Sir Claude began life as a sailor with "Charles" Boreford. They were fellow-boys on the training ship, "Antarctica" in the beginning of the "sixties." "I cannot say," writes Sir Claude, "that in those days our now perhaps foremost and certainly widely popular sailor gave any clear indications of the readiness to which he was to attain by and by. I do recollect that he was then, as always, a spirited and plucky fellow. Like Marens, and myself, too, I rather fancy he has been in—well, in two or three 'mills' since those days.

"Charles" Boreford," he continues, "though full of good nature, is bad to rib up the wrong way. Once he was driving a drag with several ladies in it home from some races—I forget where. Two or three offensive fellows in a dog-cart took pot at the lady, and Charlie held his time. Presently it came. He managed very skillfully to lock the wheel of his coach in that of the dog-cart. Then, suddenly, regardless of remonstrances, he bore down to the right till the dog-cart was precipitated head-on into a deep ditch. Charlie drove on as though nothing had happened."

Daring Practical Jokers.

There is a rather good story, too, told of Lord Glasgow, and how he was prevented from blackballing a candidate for membership in the Jockey Club. Two blackballs were sufficient to put a candidate, and, as it was known that General Peel and Lord

Glasgow intended to blackball the candidate, telegrams were sent to them on the day of election summoning them to Newmarket on urgent business. The trick was successful, and the general and his lordship returned to find the man they did not like a member of the club.

"We were not above practical jokes in those days," says Sir Claude; "but for a harked practical joke command me to one which was to have been played by three officers in the Fourth Hussars, among whom was my friend, Wilson. The trio conceived the brilliant idea of posting down to the West of England and visiting the house of a certain gentleman, well disguised as hum-bullies. Their scheme need not have miscarried, had it not been disclosed to a fourth party, who went down to the intended victim warning him that three notorious London cracksmen were shortly going to visit his house. The police were put on their guard, and directly the conspirators appeared they were 'run in,' despite all remonstrances and show of indignation. In due time, too, were they kept for several hours, until they were able to prove themselves three cavalry officers."

Known as the "Mate," the late Sir John Ashley, known to his intimates as "Mate," was an inveterate practical joker, and played a good one on Sir Claude himself while the latter was indulging in an afternoon snooze. "The Mate" could not resist the temptation of painting me a moustache with a burnt champagne cork. My son and a friend, who were present, permitted it with perhaps some misgivings. They would certainly have allowed no other man than Sir John Ashley to take the liberty. Of course, I was made to look distinctly ridiculous, and, to add to the absurdity, some one tried to wake me up, saying, 'de Crespigny, do you know you have a moustache now!' I only half woke up and murmured, 'Proper

MR. YULE CHAMPIONS LACROSSE

Sporting Editor Capital:—A few days ago I was pleased to read in THE CAPITAL that efforts were being made to organize a lacrosse team in Edmonton.

In the same article THE CAPITAL depicted the fact that lacrosse had steadily declined in the west during recent years.

That lacrosse has not only lost ground in the west but also in many parts of the east, and that the cause for such a decline is due to the introduction of base-ball, must be obvious to every follower of sport.

Last summer base-ball flourished throughout the west while there were only two or three lacrosse teams of any importance between Winnipeg and the Rockies.

In the east many towns which a few years ago supported lacrosse have taken up base-ball as a summer game.

As a Canadian, while protesting against such a condition on patriotic grounds, I ask, what has brought about this deplorable state of affairs, from a lacrosse standpoint. It cannot be that base-ball is a superior game—that it offers more attractions—that it is replete with more thrilling incidents than does our national sport. What is the reason then for this change of allegiance to a foreign sport?

In my judgment the press of Canada is responsible for the setting aside of lacrosse, and substituting a sport which is the recognized national game of the country to the south. In almost every paper printed in Canada during autumn is given over to base-ball a column or more of space. It is content with a few inches of space and many times with a mere paragraph. Every detail of base-ball is discussed and even the personal peculiarities of the players are dealt with at length while in the majority of instances the handlers of the "netted sticks" receive a passing notice.

When lacrosse occupied the premier position as our summer game it received its fair share of space in the columns of Canadian newspapers. From the time that the press of Canada began to give base-ball the preference can be steadily traced the gradual decline of our great national game.

The press of Canada in my opinion, holds in its hands the fate of lacrosse and if it persists in its unpatriotic policy of advertising base-ball at the expense of lacrosse, then our good old game which has done more to develop that sturdy manliness which is playing such an important part in the development of the Dominion, must give way to the latter.

There are at present some half a hundred lacrosse players in the city, anxiously waiting for their suits as soon as the weather permits if only some encouragement is offered.

The Capital can do no greater service for lacrosse than by giving a portion of its popular sporting pages over to its discussion.

James B. Yule,
Ex-Lacrosse player.

THE KISSING GIRL

Next to Cheever Goodwin and Harry Smith, librettists of note and great friendship, ranks Stanislaus Stange, in "The Kissing Girl," a comedy of great originality. The libretto of Goodwin found its best expression in extravaganzas of which his "Evangelical" was best. With Smith, while he has had several extravaganzas and revues that pleased, he has found a more for-lure vein in musical comedy. Goodwin uttered some twenty-one pieces, while Smith's books and lyrics are countless. Mr. Stange, in contrast to the other more fertile writers, has confined himself to comic opera and operettas. At the Empire Theatre, March 9, 10 and 11.
